

RHIP and COVID-19 MINI-GRANT PROJECT SUMMARIES

COVID-19 Final Report for Crook County Health Department (RHIP) “Crook County Resilience Survey” Reviewed by the Upstream Prevention Workgroup

Summary of Results:

- The content of the survey measured determinants of resilience such as social supports, access to material resources, sense of belonging, and self-efficacy.
- The survey itself was adapted from the Adult Resilience Measure (ARM), which was designed by the Resilience Research Centre.
- Individuals who participated in the survey were compensated through $50 grocery or gas gift cards to ensure accessibility and to demonstrate the value of their input and time.
- Participating individuals had to be over the age of 18, make less than $30,000 a year, and live in Crook County.
- The survey was available in both English and Spanish.
- Over the course of May 2021, the survey was self-administered in person in the conference room of the Prevention and Health Promotion Team building.
- We partnered with Mountain Star Family Relief Nursery to administer 19 of the 63 total surveys during their home visiting programs, which expanded survey distribution and participation.
- Overall, most responses were positive with most participants agreeing "quite a bit" or "a lot" with statements.
- The most common needs noted in the short answer section were medical care, Spanish resources, information access, and housing.

Quote:

“Multiple respondents mentioned that they really appreciated an opportunity like this. People noted that they wished there were more chances to be listened to and express what they are experiencing in the community. Their feedback suggests that we should have more activities aimed at listening to people's concerns and opinions even outside the context of a needs assessment. Additionally, everyone was very grateful upon receiving the gift card, so the impact of that was clear and immediate.”
